- Module 5. Improving patient pathways
- Chairs: K. Chatterton, London (GB)
B. Thoft Jensen, Aarhus (DK)
- Moderators: S. Vahr Lauridsen, Copenhagen (DK)
L. Noble, Newcastle (GB)
L. Munk, Aarhus (DK)
V.J. Morrison, Aarhus (DK)
E. Mensah, London (GB)
- Interactive Workshop on ideas for improving NMIBC patient pathways
- Assessment
 - Surgical pathways (i.e. day case TURBT / GIRFT)

- Management of side effects
- Awareness of patient supportive care needs
- Patient education

Each group should address these aspects and then formulate suggestions for the next session

12.00 – 12.30 Share workshop proposals from group work – group discussion

12.30 – 12.55 Mini test! + Evaluation of course

12.55 – 13.00 Closing remarks

13.00 – 14.00 Lunch

Learning outcomes for ESUN course on Improving NMIBC patient pathways

Upon completion of the course the participants will be able to:

- Describe the epidemiology, risk factors and treatment options for non-muscle invasive bladder cancer (NMIBC)
- Understand the management and treatment of side effects of intravesical therapies
- Know safety regulations when handling intravesical instillations
- Understand the importance of effective communication and skills required for interacting with our bladder cancer patients and families
- Learn how to develop additional nurse-led services within your hospitals and communities
- Describe the importance of quality of life needs and what is required to improve the patients with NMIBC pathways
- Take home ideas for improving local bladder cancer pathways with knowledge, networking and collaboration with colleagues through an excellent interactive workshop
