Description of Leuven University Hospital

The 1.955 beds at the University Hospitals of Leuven (UZ Leuven) make this the largest hospital in the country. Its 8.733 dedicated employees form the heart of campuses Gasthuisberg, Lubbeek, Pellenberg, Sint-Pieter and Sint-Rafaël. The combination of their expertise and motivation guarantees optimum patient services. In 2008, UZ Leuven made 67.710 admissions, 96.624 people went to the Single-day admissions and 637.206 people attended for consultations.

The progressive infrastructure of the Gasthuisberg campus provides a fitting environment for high-tech medicine. This health centre was built using a revolutionary new concept. The walls were built around the functions, not vice versa. In this way, the building complex seamlessly integrates all medical and paramedical disciplines.

The Department of Urology consist an outpatient clinic (daily consultation, functional service, a stone service and a radio-urological service), two urological wards for adult patients (48 beds), an urological ward for children, a daily hospital and two operating theatres every day.

The Department of Urology has 48 beds with about 2700 admissions/year. The outpatient clinic sees more than 90000 patients/year. The activities are subdivided in different care programmes like pediatric urology, functional urology, uro-gynaecologie and male infertility, uro-oncologie, endo-urology, reconstructive urology. Each staff member is responsible for several care programmes.

Our hospital is also a training hospital for students of nursing and we value the opportunity to share learning with others.

If you want to join the fellowship programme we can offer you a programme where you can visit our different services.

We like to meet you in Leuven and you are always welcome.
